Advanced Systems & Concepts (AS&C)

Knowledge and Information Management System (KIMS)

Knowledge and Information Management System

The Knowledge and Information Management System (KIMS) is a web-based system that replaces Advanced Systems and Concepts (AS&C)'s existing manual process for managing projects. The KIMS application provides:

- AS&C Senior Executives oversight on all projects
- ACTD Oversight Executives a tool to track progress of their projects
- Proposal submitters a tool to track progress of their proposals
- Warfighters the ability to provide AS&C with the necessary requirements to resolve military needs
- A central place for coalition partners, military services, and industry participating in development of ACTDs to be able to collaborate on issues
- ACTD Financial Managers with oversight of ACTD budgets and outlays

Knowledge and Information Management System

About KIMS

The Knowledge and Information Management System (KIMS) application automates tasks involved in the submission of Advanced Concept Technology Demonstration (ACTD) proposals and the management of active ACTDs. The application:

- Supports the Department of Defense (DoD), Office of the Secretary of Defense (OSD), and the Advanced Systems and Concepts (AS&C) organization, which oversees the ACTD program.
- Allows industry, military, services, other defense or government agencies, and coalition partners to submit proposals to both AS&C's and the United States (U. S.) Navy's ACTD programs.
- Allows completed proposals (and those still in progress) to be submitted to a specific office.

You do not have to request an account before submitting an unclassified proposal or concept. If you are a first-time user, click here for instructions.

NOTE

Access to proposals and ACTDs in KIMS is restricted based upon the organization to which you belong. Because of the proprietary nature of KIMS data, services, industry, and agencies can only see proposals submitted by their organizations. (For example, a military service can only view proposals submitted by its service or agency unless AS&C grants an exception.)

Therefore, if you log onto KIMS and do not see any listings on your screen, it probably means that your organization did not submit any proposals to AS&C. If you have a need to see all proposals or ACTDs, send an e-mail to KIMS@osd.mil, indicating why you are requesting access to view projects that do not belong to your service or agency.

BITS - Proposal Checklist

You can release completed (or partially completed) proposals to the Advanced Systems and Concepts (AS&C) office for review. After you release your proposal, an AS&C Oversight Executive (OE) is assigned to it. Changes you make after releasing your proposal are posted in real time, and the OE can view them. To release your proposal for review, click Release to AS&C. You release your proposal only once.

Note: To attach other documents to your proposal or view uploaded documents, click File Upload on the left navigation bar. If you upload your own Brief, Quad Sheet, or White Paper, the checklist does not track these uploaded documents and shows their status as "Empty".

BITS - Funding

Funding information for the project you specified is summarized in tables below. The Funding by Sources table shows organizations that have committed to fund the project. The Funding by Activities/Costs table shows activities that are planned for a particular fiscal year and their costs.

If the planned spending for a particular fiscal year is greater than the funded amount for that fiscal year, the project shows a shortfall in the Shortfall table. If the AS&C organization commits to funding the shortfall amount, the AS&C organization's funding commitment displays in the AS&C Funding table.

To add funding data, click Add. To edit or delete funding data, click the organization name or the AS&C funding links. To edit the spending plan, click the Funding by Activities/Costs link or click the Add button.

Funding amount is displayed on this screen

BITS - Funding

Funding information for the project you specified is summarized in tables below. The Funding by Sources table shows organizations that have committed to fund the project. The Funding by Activities/Costs table shows activities that are planned for a particular fiscal year and their costs.

If the planned spending for a particular fiscal year is greater than the funded amount for that fiscal year, the project shows a shortfall in the Shortfall table. If the AS&C organization commits to funding the shortfall amount, the AS&C organization's funding commitment displays in the AS&C Funding table.

To add funding data, click Add. To edit or delete funding data, click the organization name or the AS&C funding links. To edit the spending plan, click the Funding by Activities/Costs link or click the Add button.

Title	Broadcast Information Technology System
Acronym	BITS
Fiscal Year	2007
Phase	Selected for Breakfast Club
Status	Active

Summary

Primary FCA	Battlespace Awareness
Secondary FCA	Force Management
Tertiary FCA	Joint Training
TRL	4, Component and/or breadboard validation in laboratory environment

Objective

War fighters need a continuous, large geographic-area broadcast of Information/Knowledge that supports Situational Awareness insight. The products and interface need to be highly intuitive requiring little or no interaction by the user to receive this Information/Knowledge. Simply stated, the war fighter needs to have information relevant to the successful prosecution of the battle pushed to him in near-real-time, and should not be encumbered with the current requirement to initiate the communication.
